

IF I HAD ONLY KNOWN

Writers: Johnathan Bond/William Baker/Robert Blackstock/Pam Blackstock

A shoe box full of letters
All tied together, addressed to me
Memories of the past they take me back
To a place where we used to be

Chorus:

If I had only known today would be the last one
Had I only known things would change so fast
I would have called everyday, not gone so far away
I would trade tomorrow for one more yesterday
There's so much I'd love to say, if I had only known

King James on the table
Worn tattered pages, from years gone by
Can't help but read notes you left for me
Brings a tear to my eye
